The beauty of live plants is that they are suitable for such a diverse range of recipients; the hardest choice will be which plant to send! For the event organiser, our flowering range also make magnificent table centre pieces for events, with the added benefit of doubling as a take-home gift as all our plants are designed to last. Not to mention that if you get in early enough they can each be customized with a keepsake carrier and branding of your choosing.

"Edible Blooms is a fantastic idea. I sent a bunch of blooms to a group of clients who I knew were having a tough week. It really cheered them up! Will recommend and use in the future for sure. Express delivery option is great! thanks! "
- Ivanka, Cochlear

" I delivered this to my client last night and she was thrilled to pieces. I have been told she will be using it as her Christmas centrepiece this year for her family. Nice to offer something different to the normal corporate gift. Thank you"
- Sophie, Oates Consulting Services

"Great service! Such a great gift. My team all loved their bouquets"
- Samantha, Cape PLC

"We bought this for a client and this was their reply to us. "It has gone off like a fire cracker in the office!!!" They are very impressed with it. Thank you "
- Mark, Henry Partners
